Welcome

A warm welcome to Open Studios 2021

After such a challenging 18 months (or more!) no one would blame the artists and organisers of Site Open Studios if they threw the towel in but this year they have come back bigger than ever with over 100 artists taking part, many of them for the very first time.

Stroud is a unique place, famed for its award-winning farmers market, being the birth place of Extinction Rebellion, and of course the glorious countryside. We all appreciated those green valleys all the more during lockdown and yes, this year Stroud was named as 'Best Place to live in the UK' (Sunday Times). It was praised, among other things, for its strong community spirit and what better way to celebrate that than getting out and visiting some artists' studios! It takes some guts to open up your studio to the public, this year more than ever, so I'm looking forward to seeing what strange and curious delights they hold.

I hope you enjoy the adventure too and maybe you'll bring a piece of that wonderful Stroud creativity home with you!

Using this directory

Artists Information

This directory gives information on the 102 participating artists who are showing their work in 37 open studio locations for two weekends in September. In addition the feature section gives information about the exhibitions and events taking place from 18th-26th September with over 160 artists exhibiting and performing in the Festival. Artists' studios may also be open at other times in the week: please ring artists directly to check individual opening times.

Open Studio Routes

There are six routes linking studios according to their place in the Stroud Valleys area. The map opposite gives a general indication of studio locations and routes (it is not to scale).

Disability Access

It is advisable to ring venues before you visit to check access.

Woodchester Mansion is an amazing and unique Grade I listed Victorian Gothic house hidden in a beautiful Cotswold valley. It is an unfinished masterpiece. Building started about 1857, but stopped in the mid-1860s so floors and ceilings are missing, walls not plastered and windows unglazed. All the secrets of the construction of the Mansion are visible, something visitors will never see in another country house.

Two artists' response to this unique and time lost place, explored through sculpture, painting, sound and moving image.

"Woodchester Mansion inspires contradictory feelings in me: I am impressed by it's magnificent scale and fine craftsmanship, whilst being affected with a deep sense of desolation at the 'stillborn' nature of William Leigh's grand enterprise. This reflects a seeming contradiction in the man himself, humbly devoted to his faith and family, whilst also driven by a grandiose and unrealistic vision which inevitably collapsed under the weight of its own expectations. My work seeks to pay tribute to William Leigh the visionary, 'lighting a fire' in the cold heart(h) of the house through music, sound and image, whilst acknowledging the ultimate destructiveness inherent in his singular religious idealism." John Nathan

" 'The House that Bebo Built' was a beautifully illustrated tale about a ruined shell of a mansion in the heart of 1960's Paris that Bebo and his mate Pat restored into a fantasy castle, gathering materials from scrap yards and flea markets. The most memorable book of my childhood which I still treasure. My first impression of the interior of Woodchester Mansion reminded me of this book and I hope to instal some whimsical fantasy to counter balance and even exorcise some of the sadder elements of this floor-less architectural gem." Greer Pester
Resident Artist
an exhibition by Sheridan Jones

16th-22nd September

Sat & Sun 11am-6pm

SVA, 4 John St, Stroud, GL5 2HA

@greerpest

Greer is a Scottish visual and social artist. A graduate from Edinburgh College Of Art, her practice explores human intimacy and states of connection with nature. She is curious about creative play, life and death cycles, rituals, food and ecstatic experience, bordered by colours and shapes that can often refer us to the infantile and feminine.

She works with collage, painting, tactile sculpture and text. Her work is material led and ranges from detailed linear graphic work to bold bright expansive cut out forms. Her colourful palette embodies the exotic, taking enrichment from many years living and working in Mexico and through cultural exchanges in Europe, Africa and the US.

For this residency Greer will be focusing on developing some large tissue paper and gel cutouts - building window based surprises and layers in an interaction between inside and outside spaces, playing with the effects of light, glass and colour.

Kids free drop-in workshops
Sat 18th & Sun 19th 2-4pm

Greer will be inviting participants to join her in making their own tissue paper window kites - to connect their outsides to their insides with special symbols and forms. Young people are invited to join her in the 1st weekend of open studios for free drop in workshops. Materials provided.

At The Bureau for the Validation of Art, the Officials offer artists the opportunity to submit their work for Validation.

The Bureau are yet to find anything that isn't Art, and in this Public Exhibition you are invited to submit work to the show. The Officials will be in attendance to assess the works on display, asking "But Is It Art??"

Using a preset series of questionnaires aimed at The Artist, and An Audience, along with the Officials' own assessment, and using abundant quantities of paperwork, the Officials make a decision on whether the proposed work is Valid as Art.

The Officials validate validated work with a VALIDATED stamp, and a docket is presented to the artist recording the process and outcome.

Callout

You can contribute to The Bureau for Validation of Art exhibition at SVA. Please bring your work to the SVA gallery space by 16 September. Work should be labelled with Artist name and title. The Bureau's decision is final.

Contributing Artists please email waas@thewaas.org if you wish to book a Validation.

Our large membership of over 100 members ranges from those just beginning their journey with ink and paper to post MA and Phd students, through to artists, illustrators and textile designers.

We have planned a diverse exhibition for SITE Open Studios 2021 to be displayed throughout the studios and gallery consisting of original prints that embrace different themes, scale and processes.

The GPC ethos is to continually evolve and improve our facilities and user experience to create a professional well designed space for etching, lithography, relief printing, fabric and paper screenprint, monoprint, and photopolymer gravure. There will be printmaking demonstrations throughout the 2 weekends ranging from silkscreen printing to wood engraving and linocutting.

'leave / stay / arrive' is an art exhibition and programme of public events set in an historic building in Nailsworth. The public is invited to shift their focus from the newly refurbished building and experience the space through an immersive site specific installation of sculpture, sound and video works. There is a brief moment in time when a building undergoing work is truly raw. The process of deconstructing, though messy and chaotic, reveals shadows and imprints uncovering hidden stories.

The work provokes discussion on the value of changing spaces, probing what constitutes historical merit. Once the site of Nailsworth Brewery 1820, Comrades Social Club 1918 and now Three Storeys centre for creative working, the building holds a significant role in the area.

Sheppard Fidler + Stapleford share an interest in the relationship of the human body to place, physical memories and spaces in flux. They use movement exercises, influenced by somatic practice, as a conduit for connection, stimulating their collaboration to inform the sculptures, installations and public interventions they go on to create.

This exhibition is their first public showing since they started collaborating in 2019.

SVA supporting artists since 1996

Site Festival Open Studios was launched in 1997, just a year after SVA was set up, with the opening of the John Street Studios for the first time to the public. For us it was really important that SVA was not just about the building but about the community of artists who lived out in the Five Valleys, working in their spare rooms, sheds and on their kitchen worktops as well as the more formal studio spaces.

The word OPEN not only reflects the open studio door welcoming curious visitors to discover the wonderful world of the artists studio but also it reflects SVA's OPENNESS to all artists of all backgrounds, ages, disciplines and experience. Open Studios is not selected and we positively welcome conversations with artists who are facing barriers to developing their practice.

Site Festival Open Studios celebrates the incredible diversity of creative talent that exists here in the Valleys, supports artists making a living from their work and builds meaningful social connections in the community.
