Welcome

A warm welcome to Open Studios 2018

It's hard to say exactly why I enjoy visiting artists' studios so much. Obviously I'm hoping for something to rub off. But then there's the journey to get there, the discovery of new lanes and strangely obscure backwaters, which is like a little pilgrimage to a shrine.

I think probably my favourite studios include Cézanne's in Aix where you can see scattered around all the objects familiar from the still lifes. That funny little cherub. Zadkine's studio in Paris, Morandi's little flat in Bologna, Paul Grellier's ironwork barn one summer up in Bisley. It's something about personality, too. Books on shelves. Kitchen utensils. The view from the garden.

And, finally, you can put William Morris's golden rule to the test: Have nothing in your houses that you do not know to be useful, or believe to be beautiful.

Imagine having bought a Zadkine sculpture or a Morandi print before the price went through the roof!

Open Studios is a great way to meet artists, find out more about the ideas behind their work and the techniques they use. Don't forget, you can buy art works directly from artists! SVA has been hosting Open Studios since 1997, starting out with a handful of artists and has now expanded into one of the best rurally based Open Studio events in the UK.

Opening times:

Sat -Sun 11am-6pm

Weds-Fri 11am-3pm

Valerie Van Leersum, an artist from NDSM in Amsterdam, will be our resident artist for the SITE Festival Open Studios. Valerie Van Leersum has been creating a body of work, since 2002, driven by her search for the meaning of the concept of home, and the relationship between the ground and identity. For this she uses objects, text, audio, collages and photography in order to convey her work in a fruitful and specific way. The work moves between the 'factual' history on one hand and the subjective experience on the other, between documentary and imaginary. In 2007 Valerie Van Leersum built her studio at the former NDSM shipyard in Amsterdam. Inspired by the ideas of artist Constant Nieuwenhuys, this yard has been turned into the largest cultural breeding ground in Europe and is a place that now tries to maintain its independence within the advancing city. Under the theme of 'Places in Drift', Valerie Van Leersum will show work that is based on both the industrial and natural transitions of the NDSM wharf and Stroud.

Valerie will work with artist Tara Downs, who lives in Stroud and Amsterdam, to make and transmit podcasts from Valerie's studio at NDSM to the gallery at SVA. Tara will interview artists from NDSM and other cultural places in Amsterdam as well as philosophers, anthropologists and visionaries about urban places in transition. Valerie will make soundpieces in response to these interviews. The podcasts will be available online and to listen to in the gallery.

SVA has followed the evolutionary history of artist run spaces in UK and Europe and was particular inspired by the story of artist spaces set in the industrial docklands of Amsterdam after meeting Bert Hogervorst and Peti Buchel, in 1998, who wrote 'Turning Tide: The Users Role in the Redevelopment of Harbour Buildings in North-West Europe'.
